American Pavilion is one stop destination that promises to give you everything that you were looking out for corporate and special event that will be remembered by one and all... As a premier tent rental company, we specializes in tents of every kind and size and help our clients select the perfect meeting space. We also rent everything you need for your big event from tents, floors, carpet, lighting, glass entry doors, ceiling liners, temperature control, power and power distribution to other accessories.

While looking for a PPC firm i did a quick online search and chose eBrandz as we were of the notion that a company which ranked high organically could probably help me do the same. eBrandz managed all the ins and outs of our PPC campaigns – maximizing their effectiveness and handling all the details expeditiously, with the right amount of information. I receive a detailed weekly and monthly report and even preview all ads before they are actually used.

We soon witnessed higher visibility in the prime spots on the search engines and benefited from the much desired web traffic. The meticulous keyword research aimed at targeting the potential buyers looking for the services offered by our site. We almost immediately realized the rise in traffic that not only made our site visible to potential clients but also brought us new clients and helped in the growth of our business. I would recommend eBrandz for their ability to deliver as promised and work within a budget.
